

Jumpstart Your Revit Software

Are you going in the right direction?

Building Information Modeling (BIM) is more than just a catch-phrase and it's definitely more than a technology change. BIM is a process, a way of integrating information to make it more accessible and useful to your entire organization. But first you have to make the switch.

Every firm, regardless of size, needs a plan to streamline its adoption of new technology and especially new processes.

The Jumpstart Plan

IMAGINiT Technologies has been configuring CAD and BIM software and standards for firms of all sizes for over 20 years. Our Autodesk® Revit® Jumpstart plan is designed especially for smaller firms to get you going quickly and successfully with your new BIM workflow with the most essential components of migrating to Revit. While it is not as comprehensive as a full Revit implementation, it will provide a distinct advantage over making the transition alone or with minimal training.

We start by providing you with an IMAGINiT prepared and optimized Revit template specially designed to suit the needs of most firms and customized with your most common project title block. Beyond the template, you'll get a dedicated Revit Fundamentals class and finally, we'll come to your location and provide one day of consulting services. Use this time in the way that best suits your unique needs; perhaps you'd like our expert to install Revit, customize your Revit setup, create Revit families, or provide advanced, topic-specific, over-the-shoulder training.

More than just a Revit provider, a BIM partner

IMAGINiT Technologies helps firms through the BIM process. We know that this new era of fiscal responsibility has everyone looking for new ways to use what they've already got to be better, more efficient and more profitable. Worry over LEED certification, sustainable initiatives driven by government agencies and clients who also need you to provide more than before keeps many executives up at night. It's understandable that taking time away from the day-to-day to discuss goals and issues may be difficult, but knowing how you may be able to provide additional bottom line growth without adding to your overhead is crucial.

Give us a call to discuss how BIM, LEED, and Integrated Project Delivery are changing the game for firms worldwide. Having business conversations is what we do. Technology is the tool, your vision is the roadmap, our expertise is the way.

Contact your IMAGINiT representative to find out how our Revit Jumpstart program can be tailor-made for you.
