

IMAGINiT Earns Autodesk Platinum Club Award for 11th Consecutive Year

BALTIMORE, MD – April 11, 2023 – IMAGINiT Technologies has earned an Autodesk Platinum Award for their ongoing commitment to solving customers' manufacturing challenges. The 'Highest Growth for Design and Manufacturing Collections and Verticals' award recognizes IMAGINiT's position as the top sales performer in this category among all Autodesk solution providers in North America.

"Our team's expertise and knowledge has been acquired through decades of solving the most complex manufacturing challenges our customers face, so we thank them for trusting us with their digital transformation projects," says Bill Zavadil, president and chief operating officer, Rand Worldwide, the parent company of IMAGINiT. "We're also grateful to have a partner like Autodesk that challenges us to constantly improve our knowledge and skills. By setting the bar high, Autodesk inspires us to bring innovative solutions to our clients that exceed their expectations."

The largest manufacturers trust IMAGINiT's experienced team of technical experts to solve their mission-critical business challenges, including digital transformation and digital twin initiatives. Decade after decade, IMAGINiT continues to build comprehensive design manufacturing services including specialized expertise in data management, product lifecycle management, computer assisted manufacturing, substation modernization for the utility sector and more.

"It's fantastic to see the IMAGINiT team thrive and expand in the toughest of business environments," says Roland Zelles, senior vice president and chief revenue officer, Autodesk. "This award recognizes the effort and dedication it takes for industry leaders to overcome market obstacles. And that's exactly what IMAGINiT is doing, with a strong emphasis on improving client relationships through innovative, value-focused offerings that bring customers' digital transformation goals to fruition."
